

The Indian War in Oregon.

Lot Canfield has arrived at San Francisco from Portland, and furnished the Alta California with the following news:

He left the Dalles on the 24th ult., and just before he started a government expressman arrived at Fort Simcoe with news that Major Robinson's party, on the way to Fraser river, had been attacked on the Wenatchee river by a large party of Indians. The fight had lasted four days, Robinson losing one man and two pack animals, and the fighting was still going on when an expressman was sent to Fort Simcoe with the news, and immediately after his arrival there the government express was sent thence to the Dalles. At the time the expressman left, Robinson and the Indians were on the opposite sides of the river, but Robinson was preparing to cross over and attack them.

Six hundred soldiers had been ordered and were soon to march from the Dalles to Fort Simcoe; thence to proceed towards Okanagan to open the road used by the miners on their way to Fraser river.

It was rumored at the same time—the rumor having come previously—that the party of Gen. Palmer had all been massacred on the east of the Columbia, near the Okanagan. Gen. Palmer had nineteen wagons in his train and several hundred picked animals. The rumored massacre was credited at the Dalles, and the Portland Standard says it is probably true.

The Portland Standard has the following particulars of the death of Lieut. Allen, U. S. Army:

There is a division among the tribes west of the Columbia river relative to fighting the troops. Some desire to fight, and others wish to make peace. Oulih and Qualichien decided to remain hostile, while Colihane and Choboshekan, with their families, were for peace. The latter separated from the hostiles, and taking with them their families, were proceeding towards Simcoe. They met Major Garnett's command, and the chiefs entreated his camp with a flag of truce; they represented themselves and their people as friendly. But an Indian who was with Garnett's command reported that among these Indians were four who were in the fight against Robertson, and that the chiefs had lied when they said that all in their camp were friendly. This induced Major Garnett to retain the chiefs as prisoners, and to order Lieutenant Allen with a detachment to surround the Indian camp while the Indians were asleep.

Accordingly, about 3 o'clock on the morning of the 15th, he, with one or two of his men, went into the Indian camp, while the remainder were stationed in readiness to fire at the first signal of distress. Lieut. Allen attempted to rouse them from their sleep, when one of them jumped up and started to run away, and Allen fired at him. At the discharge of his gun the whole camp was aroused, and Allen's men outside fired indiscriminately into the camp, one side firing into the body of Allen, from which he afterwards died. The Indians are reported to have not fired at all. They were all taken prisoners, and the four who were in the fight with Robinson were shot, and the remainder set at liberty.

Major Garnett, with his command, has had another brush with the Indians on the Okanagan. Six of them were killed. The Indians in that part of the country have become alarmed at the summary measures of Major Garnett, and it is believed that most of them have retreated to the British possessions or the Black Feet country.

Army Life in Utah.

A writer from the camp at Salt Lake, in a letter dated 31st August, says:

The army camp is about to be moved a few miles to a point where preparations are being made for the winter. Huts are being built there of clay, in the shape of large sided bricks and dried in the sun, (adobe.) Each officer is to have a room 15 feet square, with walls 7 feet high—the earth for a floor, and perhaps heaven for a ceiling, in part at least, for though a sort of roof will be made, it will be a holy one. The Mormons are at work making the adobes; at least one hundred Mormons are now at work, and they have contracted to make one million and a half of them. After they are completed the troops will move, and it will take the soldiers a month to make their preparations for winter.

This war is a capital thing for the Mormons; they sell their vegetables, &c., at their own price, pretty generally, (though every day an officer is detailed to attend to the price of things brought to the camp in their labor); then they require Mormon prices for their labor; in short it is a fine thing for the Mormons to have the troops out here to eat all they want to sell.

As for Brigham, he forces surreptitiously every day. His house is very fine; it is said to have cost sixty thousand dollars. On the outside is a bee-hive, beautifully carved in wood. In this house he attends to business, receives visitors, and here reside Mrs. Brigham No. 1. In the house next to this all the other Mrs. Brigham live—say fifty or sixty.

Murder Held Out.—Gansley, a slave negro, aged some seventy years, is now on his trial in Washington County, Superior Court, for the murder of Mr. Collins, who was found hung to a tree in Washington county, some twenty five years since. Suspicion for the time rested on this negro and some other parties, but revelations were subsequently developed to cause their apprehension. Eventually, however, Gansley was overheard to make a confession in regard to the murder, and was some two years ago apprehended and confined in jail. While there he is reported to have had an interview with his son Gansley, whom he informed that Mr. Davenport was the only person who knew anything to convict him, and if Davenport were dead, he had nothing to fear. Very soon after this Gansley killed Davenport, for which crime he expired last Spring. Old Gansley will in all probability, share the fate his son did. How true it is that "murder will out"—N. O. Bulletin.

A Pistol Struck by Lightning Four Times.—The schooner Satan, of Plymouth, which arrived at Salem, a few days ago from Peru, on the night of September 8, at 3 A. M., when in latitude 26° 43', longitude 80°, experienced a severe tempest, and was struck by lightning four times, within half an hour—twice on the foremast, once on the mainmast, and once on the jib boom. The last shock was the heaviest, and the vessel appeared to be wrapped in flames, and she reeled and shook as though she had struck a rock.

The Steamship Austria.

Reception and Statement of One of the Rescued.—Conrad Ebert, a resident of Williamsburg, N. Y. and one of the rescued from the Austria, arrived home from Quebec on Friday, and was escorted to his residence by several German singing societies. Mr. Ebert, who is a widower, left New York in March last with his only child, a little girl of five, with the view of having her educated in Germany. The little girl, however, insisted on returning home, and they embarked on the ill-fated Austria. When the fire broke out he was on deck, with his little girl asleep in his arms. We here quote from his statement:

As soon as the engines stopped working, the ship changed her position, and then the flames were driven forward; then the storeroom took fire, and all who were on that part of the ship crept as far forward as possible. About this time the boat from the Maurice came within a short distance, and the crew called out to those on the bow to jump into the water and swim to the boat. Many did so, but Ebert was unwilling to risk it, as he could not swim with his child, and hoped to save her and himself by some other means. Soon after this the foot of the bowsprit burned off, and those on it fell with it. A man, woman and child had lashed themselves to the end of one of the ropes hanging from the bowsprit, and Ebert descended to the water by the same rope.

In the fall of the bowsprit he lost his child, and soon after saw her floating past him in the water. The man, woman and child below him were dead, having been drowned in the water. Upon their dead bodies Mr. Ebert sustained himself from half past seven until five o'clock the next morning—all the time holding on by the rope, as well as were those above him. When the bowsprit fell there were about thirty or forty persons on it, some of whom were precipitated into the water, and others fell off one by one, until only eighteen remained. About five o'clock the boat from the Catarina came up, and took off three from the foremost, one from the stern, and eighteen from the bowsprit and the chains, to which they were clinging. They were taken to Quebec, and thence forwarded by the Swedish Consul to New York.

Thrilling Scene.

Mr. C. J. Thomas, of Niagara Falls, was crossing in a small boat from Navy Island to Schiller last Thursday, when the terrific storm arose and the boat was seized. For upwards of an hour he was driven about by the furious gusts of wind, clinging to the boat. Several times he succeeded in righting the craft, and as often would it capsize, and though a good swimmer he had given himself up for lost, when he at length succeeded in clambering into the boat, without arms, and so thoroughly chilled as to be unable to help himself. The boat was filled with water, and was driven past the head of Navy Island into the rapid current, which swiftly bore him towards the rapids and the eternal rest. But fortunately he was seen by a Mr. Tompkins, and another man on the island, who taking a boat, hastened to rescue him. They reached him, but the wind and sea were so high that it was impossible to take him into their boat, so they towed the boat into Chipewa creek, on the Canada side. Mr. Thomas would certainly have gone over the Falls had he not been thus timely observed and rescued. His situation during the storm was terrible in the extreme, the rain and sleet being apparently carried over him in sheets. His own pluck and endurance were remarkable under the circumstances.—Buffalo Advertiser.

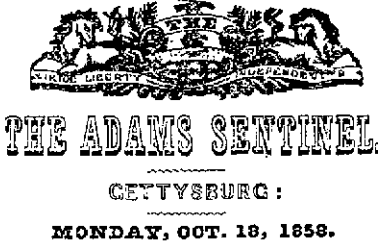

The Seducer an Outlaw.

A criminal trial of extraordinary interest has recently been concluded in Finesville, Va. The prisoner was a Mr. Henry W. Bowser, a gentleman of wealth and respectability, who was charged with murder, in having killed Mr. James McDowell, an officer in the Finesville Bank, who was the alleged seducer of Lizzie Bowser, the prisoner's daughter. The killing was not denied, Bowser having shot McDowell with a revolver, while the latter was engaged at his duties in the Bank. The defence urged that a father was justifiable in avenging the seduction of his daughter, even to the extent of taking the life of her seducer. The evidence that McDowell had debauched Miss Bowser was conclusive, and an attempt was made to blacken the crime by showing that the lady was not entirely sane, a circumstance of which McD. had taken advantage. The case was submitted without argument, and the prisoner was acquitted. It was a preliminary trial before a court of six magistrates, four of whom voted for an acquittal, and two for sending the case to trial. This decision, as far as its authority extends, would seem to establish as law what all right-thinking persons instinctively feel is justice, viz: that the deliberate seducer is an outlaw. Such decisions by juries, after listening to the passionate appeals of an eloquent counsel, are not uncommon; but we do not remember a similar decision by a Court of magistrates, who are supposed, in theory at least, to regard only the rigid letter of the law.

It is a subject of congratulation to the country that the great overland California mail route enterprise has proved a success. A dispatch to the President of the United States on Tuesday announced the fact that the mail which left San Francisco on the morning of Thursday, the 18th of September, had arrived at St. Louis.—President Buchanan immediately transmitted a reply.

It appears that this important mail was conveyed in four-horse coaches and with six passengers, in twenty-three days and four hours, not being due until Monday morning, and in less than half the time ever before required for the swiftest express to perform the journey. This has a great highway been opened up through a long, dreary and perplexing wilderness, inviting hardy industrious enterprise to establish habitation thereupon and develop in the future the great resources of the region.

Couldn't Help It.—After a marriage ceremony had been performed in one of the churches in Adrian, Michigan, the bride, when receiving the congratulations of her friends, shed tears, according to the established ridiculous custom; at the sight of which the groom followed suit with a copious flow of the briny fluid. After his friends succeeded in calming him, he said he couldn't help it, for he felt as bad about it as she did.

The "Sentinel."
It gives us great pleasure, as may well be supposed, to receive so many congratulations upon the course of our paper, not only as regards this campaign, but upon its high tone and value as a family paper. We have done our duty politically this election; and now our attention shall be directed to making it a valuable family paper, which will bring satisfaction and pleasure to the fireside during the coming winter. We hope, therefore, to add names to our list who will find interest, and we trust, profit in the perusal of the columns of the "Sentinel."

The Election is now over—and of course, our paper will not be occupied, as it has been for some weeks past, with political articles, but will present its usual variety of interesting and profitable matter. We felt, this fall, that we had a duty to perform as the Editor of a journal, to arouse the people to a sense of duty, and, feeble as our voice was, we have reason to believe, that voice was not in vain, as the result shows. We have achieved a victory which will tell hereafter—and the "Sentinel" feels gratified that its course has been so well sustained. We felt there was the power in the County to redeem itself, if encouraged and brought out. We strove to give that encouragement, and in a great degree succeeded. Our friends now feel their strength; and next year will bring all things back "as they were" in the good old times of Whig ascendancy. Stick a pin there, friend of the Compiler.

It appears quite a singular coincidence that the only two candidates on the Democratic County ticket, who were defeated on Tuesday last, should be of the Catholic Church. It would seem to indicate that there must be some "Know Nothings" in the Democratic party, who have made their mark there, and, of course, will hereafter. The Democratic State ticket has a majority; yet Mr. Will and Mr. Clark have been defeated. What does it mean? As we do not belong to either branch, we cannot give any reason—yet it is very significant, and may well be a subject of reflection on the part of our old Whig Catholic friends, whether they have got into better company than they were before.

Our readers will bear in mind that when we announced that our advice from all parts of this Congressional district gave us assurance of the election of our townsman, Mr. McPherson, we spoke what we knew, and with no view to deceive. We left that for unscrupulous politicians. Our friend of the Compiler must have received his communications from very unreliable sources—or else—was mistaken!

The Compiler had a big rooster over an article in his type last week, saying that the Democrats had carried the State of Delaware by 750 majority. Now, the fact is, the State election will not take place until the second Tuesday of November.—The election of Tuesday week was for Inspectors and Assessors only.

In Franklin county, Mr. McPherson's majority is 324. The majority for Canal Commissioner is 206—showing that in Mr. Reilly's own county, as well as in Adams, Mr. McPherson heads his Ticket.—This is pretty well for one of whom the Democratic leaders and papers pretended, before the election, to think so meanly of. The people evidently had different views on the subject.

In Waynesboro, (Mr. Reilly's birthplace, and where he resided until he reached manhood.) Mr. McPherson's majority for Congress is 20. John M. Read's for Judge is but 7. Mr. Reilly's vote is 11 less than Wm. A. Porter's.

The Rev. Mr. ZEIGLER, for a number of years the zealous and respected pastor of the German Reformed Congregation in this place, has resigned his charge here. He still retains some congregations in the country, and will continue to reside amongst us.

Friday evening next, we understand, has been fixed upon by our friends to celebrate the late triumph of the People. There will be a torch-light procession, Fire-works, &c. &c.

Mammoth Potato.
Our Huntington potato has been "beaten" almost as much as the Leocompton member of Congress from this District. Our friend, Maj. MUSELMAN, of Liberty, sent us on Friday last, a most splendid "Pink-eye," which weighs two pounds! beating our Huntington one 11 ounces. And our friend, the Major, has given it the name of a "McPherson potato," which makes the victory quite a significant one just now.

The new Warehouse of Mr. Hoke is completed, and he is ready to receive grain and all other kinds of produce.

On the morning of the 6th inst., Mr. H. W. Hoover, of Lurgan township, Pennsylvania county, committed suicide by hanging. But a short time previous to the act he left his family, in apparent health and sound mind, to attend to some duties about his barn, while breakfast was preparing, and committed the act.

The XVIIth Congressional District.

It is with no ordinary gratification that we are permitted to announce to the readers of the "Sentinel" the redemption of our Congressional District, and the triumphant election of our gallant young townsman, EDWARD McPHERSON. The active part taken by the Sentinel in this work, as well as to redeem the County, was the result of a firm conviction that the honor, the interests, and the glory of our Free Institutions were directly involved in the endorsement or rebuke by the People of the despotic and ruinous policy of Mr. Buchanan's Administration. Mr. REILLY had fully endorsed that policy, and in his election or defeat, the people of this District were challenged to pass that policy in review. They have done so, and the verdict is one which must make every friend of Constitutional Freedom feel proud of his District.

Gov. Packer beat Mr. Willnot in the District last fall 1633—his majorities being 463 in Adams, 770 in Bedford, 180 in Franklin, 247 in Fulton, and 78 in Juniata. With such a majority in the District, we are not surprised that the friends of Mr. Reilly went into the canvass with defiant bearing, and flushed with assurances of certain triumph. But, impressed with an abiding conviction of the greatness of the issues involved—reposing confidence in the calm, "sober second thought" of the People—and knowing the peculiar fitness, worth and energy of our candidate—we looked hopefully to the result. Nor have we been disappointed. Mr. McPherson has broken down Packer's 1633 majority, and carries the District by 269—making a change of 1952! We annex the vote in the several Counties:

Mr. McPherson at Home.

The vote received by Mr. McPherson in this Borough and in Adams County, is a highly creditable one, and fully vindicates him from the unworthy personalities with which the Compiler and the Leocompton Press generally of the District teamed on the eve of the election. The very last issue of the "Valley Spirit" (Mr. Reilly's organ at Chambersburg,) contained an extract from a letter, dated Gettysburg, Oct. 5, in which it was stated that this County was fully canvassed, and the writer felt prepared, from personal intercourse with the Democracy of the several Townships, to give the assurance that "under no circumstances could Mr. Reilly's majority in Adams county be less than 400"—that Mr. McPherson's acknowledged personal unpopularity would throw him behind his ticket in every District—and that, as a necessary consequence, Mr. Reilly would leave the County with a larger majority than any candidate on the Leocompton ticket. The peculiar style of this letter leaves no doubt as to its authorship. The result shows the writer to have been as sadly at fault in his communication with his party friends, as he was in his controversies with the Sentinel. Mr. McPherson gains handsomely on the State ticket in almost every district in the County, and sums up a majority of 126, while the State ticket is beaten from 27 to 40. In the Borough district his majority is 124, while the majority for the State ticket is only 81. This, we repeat, is not only creditable to Mr. McPherson, but it furnishes a withering rebuke to his maligners.

H. Rather & Bro., of Littlestown, had on exhibition at the York Fair a very beautiful falling-top Buggy, for which a first class premium was awarded.

Business of every kind is improving at New Oxford, since the Railroad has reached there. New stores and shops of various kinds are being started—and there is at present a scarcity of houses.

Howard Association.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the well known benevolent Institution in another column. We have reason to believe that this is a sound, useful and reliable Institution, and well managed.

The Comet, with a great amount of nothing, appears to have made a considerable quantity of easting, and therefore to have appreciably increased its right ascension. It is not so bright as it has been, nor does the tail maintain its full proportions. We may hence conclude it to be once more on its aphehion way, and if ever again to return to the neighborhood of our planet only to attract the gaze of a human race to whom infants now dandling in their nurses' arms will have played the part of distant progenitors, and to look down on a map of the world mysteriously changed in a thousand years from its present arrangement.

On the 9th of October the comet was six degrees north of the Equator; on the 13th eight degrees to the south of it, with an increase of right ascension of half an hour beyond the sun's. On the 17th (yesterday), the comet was twenty degrees south of the Equator, and to-day will cross the tropic of Capricorn.

The Nail Factory of Mr. Pratt, near Fairview, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, went into operation on Monday the 13th ult. It gives employment to over one hundred hands. For two or three years the factory has been lying idle, and it is a cheering sign of the improvement of the times that it will be so again in the full tide of successful operation.

Our Railroad.
The Baltimore Patriot of Thursday last, has a very favorable article in regard to our Railroad, for which we regret we have not room to-day. It speaks of its rapid progress to completion, of the erection of the depots at this place, of the confidence in the success of the improvements, and alludes to the probability of its extension to "Waynesboro, &c., and of the importance of the trade to Baltimore; is of opinion that the opening will take place about the 1st of November; and closes with the following remarks:

We cannot too highly commend the energy and enterprise of our Gettysburg neighbors for they will soon be in very close proximity to us—in carrying forward so successfully this much wanted improvement. It will bring them within a few hours' ride of our metropolis. They will be enabled to leave their homes early in the morning, reach Baltimore at a convenient period in the forenoon, transact business with our merchants, and return in time for a comfortable cup of tea at night. While, therefore, our city will naturally participate in the advantage to be derived from the opening and completion of this work, yet those along the route, at its terminus, and persons residing in the vicinity of other connecting links, will in like manner be profited, by being brought near to a desirable and abundant market.

The design is to have a very imposing celebration when the road is fully opened, which will take place about the time above designated. We shall endeavor to accept our invitation and be present on that occasion. It is encouraging to know the enterprise has progressed so rapidly and satisfactorily.

Result in the State.

We have neither time nor room for tables and detailed returns of the State election to-day. The general result may be summed up as follows: Hon. John M. Read, the People's candidate for Supreme Judge, is elected by not less than twenty-five thousand majority. Wm. E. Frazer, the People's candidate for Canal Commissioner, is elected by about the same majority. The delegation in Congress will stand twenty Opposition, three anti-Leocompton Democrats, and two regular Democrats.—The State Senate is somewhat in doubt, but will probably stand seventeen Democrats to sixteen Opposition. The House of Representatives will undoubtedly be strongly Opposition. Our impression is that the House will stand about 71 Opposition to 19 Democrats. On joint ballot of the two Houses the Legislature will be strongly Opposition.

LIST OF LECOMPTON CONGRESSMEN LEFT AT HOME.
Third district—James Landy; Fourth district—Henry M. Phillips; Fifth district—Owen Jones; Eighth district—J. G. Laney Jones; Eleventh district—Wm. L. Dewart; Fifteenth district—Allison White; Seventeenth district—Wilson Reilly; Twenty-fourth district—James L. Gillis.

It is now certain that these are all defeated. In addition to them, John F. Ahl, of the Sixteenth district, and Paul Leidy, of the Twelfth, failed to get nominations. So that really ten of the twelve members of the present Congress who voted for Leocompton, have had leave to stay at home. Messrs. Florence and Dimmick are the only two re-elected, and their majorities are greatly reduced.

Ohio and Indiana.
Have been swept by the People's candidates—State Ticket, Legislature and all.—In Ohio we have 16 members of Congress out of 31; and in Indiana, there is but one Administration member out of 11. What a rebuke to Mr. Buchanan!

Mr. Swann (American) was re-elected Mayor of Baltimore on Wednesday last, by a majority of 19,174 over Col. Shut, an independent candidate. There was a great deal of rioting and bloodshed at different polls.

Kansas Election.
St. Louis, October 13.—The Kansas Legislature election took place on the 4th inst. The Republicans carried Leavenworth, Atchison, Jefferson, Douglas and Lykins counties, and the Democrats have carried Doniphan county.

The Fever at New Orleans.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11.—The ravages of the fever in this city, we regret to say, show no abatement whatever. The deaths for the week from the epidemic reach three hundred and ninety, against three hundred and eighty the previous week, or an increase of ten. The victims at the present time are those not acclimated, but who persist in returning to the city, notwithstanding the warning that has been given not to do so.

A Duel was recently fought near Memphis, Tennessee, between Mr. Waters, of Virginia, and Dr. J. E. Nagle, formerly of Lancaster, Pa. They met on an island, and without any witnesses but their seconds fought one of the bloodiest duels on record. They fired two rounds with Derringer pistols, both being wounded at each fire. They then, by agreement, resorted to revolvers, and continued the fight. Mr. Waters was riddled at every shot, and died the same night. Dr. Nagle received wounds that will probably terminate fatally.

Two Children Barred to Death.—Mr. John Daly and wife, of Eitzburg, went to bed drunk last night, leaving a lighted candle in such close proximity to the bed as to set it on fire. The inmates were soon aroused by the flames, and escaped from their slumbers, which was also on fire, by jumping out of a window. They were so stupified by liquor that they paid no attention to their two little girls, one two and a half and the other four years of age, and left them in the burning building where they perished in the flames.—Boston Journal.

The Boston Advertiser publishes a letter from the Hon. Charles Sumner, dated Aix, Savoy, Sept. 11th, in which Mr. Sumner says:—"I begin the day with douches hot and cold; and when thoroughly exhausted, am wrapped in sheet and blanket, and conveyed to my hotel and laid on my bed. After my walk I find myself obliged again to take my bed for two hours before dinner. But this whole treatment is in pleasant contrast with the protracted sufferings from fire which made my summer a torment. And yet I fear that I must again return to that treatment. It is with a pang unexpressable that I find myself thus arrested in the labors of life and in the duties of my position

The Terrible Explosion at Havana.

Further Particulars.—The telegraph has already noted the fact that the naval magazine, at Havana, exploded on the 28th ult., killing 28 persons and wounding 105 others. The following additional particulars have been received:

The magazine was situated at the head of the harbor, containing over one hundred and fifty thousand pounds of gunpowder, several hundred loaded shells, together with a large quantity of rockets, fire-works, &c. No damage was done to the vessels at anchor. The dead bodies of three coolies were blown through the air to the slope of Fort Atares, nearly a quarter of a mile off.

There were upwards of 800 persons employed on the new sugar warehouses, in the immediate vicinity of the disaster, mostly coolies, and among them the loss of life and limb appears to have been the greatest. Of the military guard of the magazine, consisting of a sergeant and 16 men, only 4 remained. Twenty sugar warehouses in the vicinity were entirely destroyed, and several private dwellings greatly injured.

A Balloon Race.

A balloon race has been agreed upon between the two celebrated aeronauts, Mons. Godard and Prof. Steiner. It will commence at Cincinnati on Monday, the 18th (to-day). The inflation of the balloons, each containing 35,000 cubic feet of gas, will commence at nine o'clock in the morning, and the ascension will take place at four o'clock. A committee of five citizens have been chosen, who are to act as judges, &c. They will decide whether the weather in the morning shall justify the inflation of the balloons. When the inflation has commenced the aeronauts must go. Each may take up a passenger, at his own discretion. The success of either will be in relation to distance, not height. Arrangements will be made for each aeronaut to send down, at every town passed, in a parachute. A "log," or note, containing the name of the balloon which passes, and any incident occurring on the trip, so that the people may be continually posted of the whereabouts of the aeronauts, and the success attending their aerial flight, Mons. Godard and Prof. Steiner each expect to be up three or four days.—Cincinnati Gazette.

The Gallows Chanted.—Daniel Devine, of St. Louis, who, in attempting to bite off in the dark, the nose of his wife, made a mistake and bit off the nose of his daughter, a beautiful child of five years, has been sentenced to two years in the State prison.

A Horse Killed by Whips.—As Major General Dalton, of the Royal Artillery, was driving with his family in an open carriage, on the 31st of August, a large swarm of wasps darkening the air with their numbers, attacked his horse, stinging it in every part of the body in a frightful manner. They pitched in hundreds upon the horse, a very valuable and high spirited animal, pursued the carriage for nearly a mile, and endangering the lives of all who were in it, who, however, fortunately escaped with only a few stings. On reaching home the horse had suffered so severely that it was found necessary to send for a veterinary surgeon, and every necessary remedy was resorted to, but the shock given to the nervous system, and the high state of inflammation produced, caused death in 48 hours.—English Paper.

Elopement.—The New Orleans Crescent states that a lady, the wife of a most respectable merchant of that city, and the mother of three children, left the house of her husband, who is now in the North, for parts unknown. She left a note for him, stating that he need not trouble himself about the children, as none of them was his. A relative of the lady followed, and had an interview with her, beseeching her to return, &c., but she spurned the idea, alleging disparity of age, disagreement of temper, and other things, as a full justification for the step she had taken.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe Lung Affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost him nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription will please address
